1. PROBLEM:

25X1A9A Due to reasons relating to operational security and the safety of personnel, [] was directed to return to Headquarters in March 1952, some three months after he arrived (20 December 1951) PCS at []. At the time [] was ordered returned to Headquarters, he had paid advance rental to the landlord in the sum of $608.10. The sum in question was advanced to [] by the [] Station and subsequently transferred to Headquarters as a charge to Subject's advance account. In that he was directed to return to Headquarters at CIA convenience, though he had arrived in [] less than three months earlier, JONES seeks reimbursement for the sum of $608.10 in order to preclude personal hardship.

2. FACTS BEARING ON THE PROBLEM:

25X1A9A a. [] was assigned PCS [] for a two-year tour of duty.

Westerners in [] was in fact in accordance with local customs. In that the lease had no escape clause, the landlord would probably have been within his legal rights to seek payment from [] for any period of the lease agreement during which the house remained 25X1A9A unrented.

c. To protect the security of the [] operations, as well as CIA personnel, it was determined that [] must leave the [] area posthaste, due to the probable detrimental effect of his continued presence beyond 15 March 1952 ([] (IN 20209)). 25X1A6A 25X1A9A 25X1A2G

d. A member of the [] Station attempted to sublet the house; however, his efforts were unsuccessful (see [], dated 13 March 1953 and [], dated 10 April 1953). 25X1A2G

3. CONCLUSIONS:

a. The sum of $608.10 was paid to the landlord as advance rental, in accordance with local custom.

b. The command decision that Subject be returned to Headquarters created a situation which caused Subject subsequently to be charged, through no negligence or fault of his own, the sum of the rental advance. The loss of $608.10 was due solely to reasons of operational security and to concern for Subject's personal safety.

4. ACTION RECOMMENDED:

That Subject's claim for $608.10 be approved and his advance account credited.

1. This case does not appear to be proper for determination under [redacted] but rather under [redacted]. The assertions made by the claimant and referenced at several points in the file (see among others, Memo of 20 June 1955 to Chief, Finance), indicate that control of the property for Agency purposes was undertaken by the Station upon re-assignment of the claimant. Correspondence with the Station, although not directly in point on this question, neither affirms nor denies the plaintiff's assertion that it became Agency property upon his departure, but in context appears to affirm this assertion.
